AMENDED COMPLAINT FOR PATENT INFRINGEMENT

Plaintiff Alpha Modus, Corp. (“Alpha Modus” or “Plaintiff”) files this Amended Complaint for Patent Infringement and Demand for Jury Trial against Walgreen, Co. (“Walgreens” or “Defendant”) for infringement of United States Patent Nos. 10,977,672 (“the ’672 Patent”), and 11,042,890 (“the ’890 Patent”) (collectively the “Patents-in-Suit”).

THE PARTIES

1. Alpha Modus is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of Florida and located at 20311 Chartwell Center Dr., Suite 1469, Cornelius, North Carolina 28031.

2. Upon information and belief, Defendant Walgreen, Co. is a company organized and existing under the laws of Illinois, with a principal place of business located at 108 Wilmot Rd, Deerfield, IL 60015 and may be served with process through its registered agent, Prentice Hall Corporation System, at 211 E. 7th Street, Suite 620, Austin, Texas 78701.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

3. This is an action for patent infringement arising under the patent laws of the United States, Title 35, United States Code, including 35 U.S.C. §§ 154, 271, 281, and 283-285.

4. This Court has exclusive subject matter jurisdiction over this case for patent infringement under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338.

5. Walgreens is subject to the general and specific personal jurisdiction of this Court, based upon its regularly conducted business in the State of Texas and in the Eastern District of Texas (“District”), including conduct giving rise to this action.

6. Walgreens has conducted and does conduct business within the State of Texas.

7. Walgreens has committed, and continues to commit, acts of infringement in this District, has conducted business in this District, and/or has engaged in continuous and systematic activities in this District.

8. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Walgreens at least because Walgreens has made, used, offered to sell, sold, or put into service the accused products, systems, or services within the District, thus committing acts of infringement within the District, and placed infringing products, systems, or services into the stream of commerce knowing or understanding that such products, systems, or services would be used in the United States, including in the Eastern District of Texas. Walgreens, thus, has committed and continues to commit acts of infringement in this District by, among other things, offering to sell, selling products and/or services, and/or using services that infringe the Asserted Patents.

9. This Court likewise has personal jurisdiction over Walgreens at least because Walgreens has committed acts within this District giving rise to this action and has established minimum contacts with this forum such that the exercise of jurisdiction over Walgreens would not offend traditional notions of fair play and substantial justice.

10. This Court has specific personal jurisdiction over Walgreens in this action pursuant to due process and the Texas Long Arm Statute because the claims asserted herein arise out of or are related to Walgreens's voluntary contacts with this forum, such voluntary contacts including but not limited to: (i) at least a portion of the actions complained of herein; (ii) purposefully and voluntarily placing one or more Accused Products into this District and into the stream of commerce with the intention and expectation that they will be purchased and used by customers in this District; or (iii) regularly doing or soliciting business, engaging in other persistent courses of conduct, or deriving substantial revenue from goods and services, including the Accused Products.

11. Venue is proper in this Court pursuant to 28 U.S.C. §§ 1400(b).

12. Walgreens is registered to do business in Texas, and upon information and belief, Walgreens has transacted business in this District and has committed acts of direct and indirect infringement in this District.

13. Walgreens has regular and established places of business in this District.

14. Walgreens offers its products and/or services, including those accused herein of infringement, to customers and potential customers located in Texas and in this District.

15. Walgreens operates multiple stores in this District, including at 309 E. End Blvd. N, Marshall, Texas 75670. This store is a regular and established place of business of Walgreens.

16. Walgreens has previously consented to jurisdiction and venue in this District, for example, in Optinetix, Inc. v. Walgreen Co., Case No. 1:21-cv-00293-MJT (E.D. Tex. 2021).

ALPHA MODUS'S INNOVATION IN RETAIL TECHNOLOGY

17. Alpha Modus Corp. specializes in the development of innovative retail technologies.

18. At the core of Alpha Modus's technology portfolio, including the Patents-in-Suit, is the capability to analyze consumer behavior and product interaction in real-time. This advanced capability allows businesses to dynamically adjust their marketing strategies to meet the immediate needs of consumers at pivotal purchasing decision moments.

19. Alpha Modus, in an effort to ensure transparency and accessibility, maintains a comprehensive presentation of its patent portfolio on its official company website, available at <https://alphamodus.com/what-we-do/patent-portfolio/>. The patent portfolio provided on Alpha Modus's website lists the Patents-in-Suit.

20. On January 11, 2024, Alpha Modus entered into a substantial intellectual property licensing agreement with GZ6G Technologies Corp. See Alpha Modus Announces Intellectual Property License Agreement with GZ6G Technologies Corp., available at <https://alphamodus.com/2024/01/12/alpha-modus-announces-intellectual-property-license-agreement-with-gz6g-technologies-corp/>. This agreement authorized GZ6G Technologies Corp. to utilize Alpha Modus's patented technology in their operations, with a particular focus on the Stadium and Event Management industry. Alpha Modus has entered into similar intellectual property licensing agreements with Xalles Holdings Inc. and CashXAI Inc. See Alpha Modus Announces Intellectual Property License Agreement with GZ6G Technologies Corp., available at <https://alphamodus.com/2024/01/11/alpha-modus-announces-intellectual-property-license-agreement-with-gz6g-technologies-corp/> and Alpha Modus Announces Intellectual Property License Agreement with Xalles Holdings and its Subsidiary CashXAI, available at <https://alphamodus.com/2024/04/16/alpha-modus-announces-intellectual-property-license-agreement-with-xalles-holdings-and-its-subsiary-cashxai/>.

21. These agreements are indicative of Alpha Modus's commitment to legally disseminating its patented technology.

THE '672 PATENT

22. Alpha Modus is the owner by assignment from the inventors, Michael Garel and Jim Wang, of all right, title, and interest in and to United States Patent No. 10,977,672 (the “’672 Patent”) titled “Method And System For Real-Time Inventory Management, Marketing, And Advertising In A Retail Store,” including the right to sue for all past, present, and future infringement. A true and correct copy of the ’672 Patent is attached to this Complaint at Exhibit A.

23. The ’672 Patent issued from U.S. Patent Application No. 16/985,001 filed on August 4, 2020.

24. The ’672 Patent is a continuation of application No. 16/509,343, filed on Jul. 11, 2019, which in turn is a continuation of application No. 14/335,429, filed on Jul. 18, 2014.

25. The Patent Office issued the ’672 Patent on April 13, 2021, after a full and fair examination.

26. The ’672 Patent is valid and enforceable.

27. The ’672 Patent introduces a novel system for real-time inventory management, marketing, and advertising within a retail store setting.

28. The ’672 Patent addresses the emerging challenges in the retail sector, particularly for brick-and-mortar stores, in the context of the increasing prevalence of online shopping and the phenomenon of showrooming. The patent provides innovative solutions to enhance in-store customer experiences and counter the competitive pressures from online retail

29. The inventors of the ’672 Patent recognized that there existed a significant gap in the brick-and-mortar retail sector’s ability to provide real-time, personalized experiences to customers, a feature commonly leveraged by online retailers. The patent offers a method and system that bridges this gap by utilizing technology to analyze consumer behavior and dynamically adjust marketing and inventory strategies.

30. The '672 Patent provides several advantages over the prior art, such as real-time inventory management and the ability to generate targeted promotions and advertising based on behavioral analytics. This approach aims to provide more relevant and engaging consumer experiences, thereby influencing purchasing decisions and potentially increasing in-store sales.

FIG. 2

31. The '672 Patent describes and claims a specific system incorporating servers, image recognition, and information monitoring devices to manage inventory, display relevant product information and pricing, and generate promotions for customers based on real-time data analysis.

32. Claim 1 of the '672 Patent reads:

1. A system for real-time inventory management, marketing, and advertising on a first visual display at a first visual display location in a retail store, comprising:
 - (a) a server comprising:
 - (i) one or more server processors, and,
 - (ii) a server memory storing computer-executable instructions that, when executed by the one or more server processors, cause the server to:
 - (A) identify, via image recognition, an inventory of one or more retail products physically located at the first visual display location in the retail store,
 - (B) display, on the first visual display, information about one or more of the one or more retail products physically located at the first visual display location,
 - (C) determine, in real-time, current pricing information regarding the one or more retail products physically located at the first visual display location,
 - (D) display, on the first visual display, the current pricing information regarding the one or more retail products physically located at the first visual display location,
 - (E) receive, using one or more information monitoring devices at the first visual display location, real-time data of a customer, and
 - (F) generate a promotion of one or more of the one or more retail products physically located at the first visual display location for the customer based on behavioral analytics.

THE '890 PATENT

33. Alpha Modus is the owner by assignment from the inventors, Michael Garel and Jim Wang, of all right, title, and interest in and to United States Patent No. 11,042,890 (the "'890 Patent") titled "Method And System For Customer Assistance In A Retail Store," including the right to sue for all past, present, and future infringement. A true and correct copy of the '890 Patent is attached to this Complaint at Exhibit B.

34. The '890 Patent issued from U.S. Patent Application No. 16/837,711, filed on April 1, 2020.

35. The '890 Patent is a continuation of application No. 16/509,343, filed on Jul. 11, 2019, which in turn is a continuation of application No. 14/335,429, filed on Jul. 18, 2014.

36. The Patent Office issued the '890 Patent on June 22, 2021, after a full and fair examination.

37. The '890 Patent is valid and enforceable.

38. The '890 Patent relates to an improved method for enhancing customer assistance in retail stores through the use of advanced information monitoring systems.

39. The inventors of the '890 Patent recognized the need for brick-and-mortar retailers to adapt to the changing consumer behavior influenced by digital technology. The patent offers a solution by integrating technology to analyze customer interactions with products in real-time, providing targeted assistance and enhancing the shopping experience.

40. The '890 Patent provides several advancements over previous methods, such as real-time analysis of customer interactions with products, including sentiment and object identification information, and utilizing this data to manage inventory and offer personalized responses.

41. The '890 Patent describes and claims a specific method involving the use of information monitoring devices to gather and analyze data about a customer's interaction with products in a retail store. This method includes steps for gathering object identification and sentiment information about the product, analyzing this information in real-time, and providing appropriate responses to enhance the customer's shopping experience.

42. Claim 1 of the '890 Patent reads:

1. A method comprising:

- (a) using one or more information monitoring devices to gather information about a person at a retail store, wherein
 - (i) the person is in proximity to at least one of the one or more information monitoring devices at the retail store,
 - (ii) the one or more information monitoring devices are operably connected to (A) a server, (B) one or more databases, or (C) both, and
 - (iii) the step of gathering information using the one or more information monitoring devices comprises
 - (A) gathering object identification information of a product that the person is interested in purchasing, and
 - (B) gathering sentiment information of the person with respect to the product;
- (b) analyzing the information in real time using (A) the server, (B) the one or more databases, or (C) both gathered by the information monitoring devices about the shopping activities of the plurality of persons to manage inventory of the products in the retail store at the one or more product points, wherein the analyzed information comprises the object identification information and the sentiment information; and
- (c) providing a response in real time based upon the analyzed information gathered by the information monitoring devices, wherein the response is selected from a group consisting of

- (i) sending a communication to the person directing the person to a location in the retail store at which the person can interact with the product,
- (ii) engaging the person based upon the product, wherein the engaging is performed using one more displays and content being displayed on the one or more displays is selected based upon the product,
- (iii) sending a communication to a second person in the retail store who can then in real time interact with the person regarding the product,
- (iv) providing marketing or advertising information to the person in real time based upon the product, wherein the marketing or advertising information is either product to the person by a display at the retail store or by sending the marketing or advertising information to a mobile device of the person, and
- (v) providing a coupon to the person in real time based upon the product, wherein the coupon is either a printed out coupon or a digital coupon.

WALGREENS

- 43. Walgreens is one of the largest pharmacy store chains in the United States.
- 44. Walgreens has implemented Cooler Screens products in its brick-and-mortar stores.
- 45. Cooler Screens, a company co-founded by Greg Wasson, former President and CEO of Walgreens, purports to offer innovative retail technology solutions.
- 46. In or around January 2020, Alpha Modus, as the owner of the Patents-in-Suit, engaged with Cooler Screens regarding the potential licensing of its intellectual property.
- 47. During these discussions, Alpha Modus informed Cooler Screens about the Patents-in-Suit and their potential applications in retail technology.
- 48. Despite being made aware of the Patents-in-Suit, Cooler Screens expressed disinterest in licensing the Patent-in-Suit or exploring further business opportunities with Alpha Modus.
- 49. Cooler Screens then began selling digital smart screens.

50. Cooler Screens' products practice the patented systems and methods of the Patents-in-Suit that were disclosed during the discussions between Alpha Modus and Cooler Screens in 2020.

51. On information and belief, Walgreens partnered with Cooler Screens to implement the digital smart screens (the "Accused Products").

52. Cool Screens has sued Walgreens in Illinois state court for $200 million for breach of contract related to Walgreens's use of the Accused Products in its stores.

53. Walgreens's implementation of these patented technologies has, on information and belief, significantly contributed to its retail efficiency and profitability.

54. Walgreens has been aware of Alpha Modus and the Patents-in-Suit at least as early as February of 2020, when Alpha Modus sent a notice letter to Walgreens. In July of 2023, Alpha Modus sent another notice letter to Walgreens regarding the Patents-in-Suit. Alpha Modus sent a follow up letter in August 2023. All of the letters went ignored.

55. The financial gains accrued by Walgreens through the use of Alpha Modus's patented technology have been substantial, providing Walgreens with competitive advantages in the retail market.

56. The benefits reaped by Walgreens through the exploitation of Alpha Modus's intellectual property have resulted in corresponding harm to Alpha Modus. This harm includes but is not limited to lost business opportunities, revenue, and diminution of the value of its patented technology.

57. This case is filed to address and seek redress for the unauthorized use of Alpha Modus's patented technology by Walgreens in its retail stores, which has led to significant commercial gains for Walgreens at the expense of Alpha Modus's proprietary rights and investments.

COUNT I

(DIRECT INFRINGEMENT OF THE '672 PATENT)

58. Alpha Modus repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference, as if fully set forth herein, the allegations of the preceding paragraphs.

59. Walgreens has made, used, offered for sale, and sold in the United States, products and systems that directly infringe the '672 Patent, including the digital smart screens of the Accused Products.

60. The Accused Products embody a system for real-time inventory management, marketing, and advertising in a retail store setting, as claimed in the '672 Patent.

61. The Accused Products utilize a server comprising one or more server processors, and a server memory storing computer-executable instructions that, when executed, perform functions covered by at least Claim 1 of the '672 Patent.

62. The functions include identifying, via image recognition, an inventory of retail products physically located at a display location in the store, displaying information about the products, determining and displaying current pricing information, receiving real-time data of a customer using one or more information monitoring devices, and generating promotions for the customer based on behavioral analytics.

63. Walgreens has directly infringed the '672 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271(a) by making, using, offering for sale, selling, and/or operating the Accused Products that embody the patented inventions of at least Claim 1 of the '672 Patent.

64. The Accused Products satisfy each and every element of the asserted claim of the '672 Patent either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

65. Walgreens's infringing activities are and have been without authority or license under the '672 Patent.

66. As a direct and proximate result of Walgreens's infringement of the '672 Patent, Alpha Modus has suffered and will continue to suffer damage.

67. Alpha Modus is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that Walgreens has been aware of the '672 Patent and its infringement thereof due to the business relationship between Walgreens and Cooler Screens and through Alpha Modus's notice letter to Walgreens in February of 2020. Despite this knowledge, Walgreens has continued to use the Accused Products in its retail operations.

68. Alpha Modus is informed and believes that Walgreens knew or was willfully blind to the patented technology of the '672 Patent. Despite this knowledge or willful blindness, Walgreens has acted with blatant disregard for Alpha Modus's patent rights with an objectively high likelihood of infringement.

69. Alpha Modus is informed and believes that Walgreens has made no efforts to avoid infringement of the '672 Patent, despite its knowledge and understanding that its products and systems infringe the '672 Patent.

70. Therefore, Walgreens's infringement of the '672 Patent is willful and egregious, warranting an enhancement of damages.

71. As such, Walgreens has acted and continues to act recklessly, willfully, wantonly, deliberately, and egregiously in infringement of the '672 Patent, justifying an award to Alpha Modus of increased damages under 35 U.S.C. § 284, and attorneys' fees and costs incurred under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

COUNT II

(INDUCED PATENT INFRINGEMENT OF THE '672 PATENT)

72. Alpha Modus repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference, as if fully set forth herein, the allegations of the preceding paragraphs, as set forth above.

73. Walgreens is liable for indirect infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b) of at least one claim of the '672 Patent, at least as early as the filing of this Complaint, because it knowingly induces, aids, and directs others to use the Accused Products in a manner that infringes the '672 Patent.

74. As detailed in paragraphs 56-60, Alpha Modus engaged with Cooler Screens regarding the potential licensing of the Patents-in-Suit, including the '672 Patent. During these discussions, Alpha Modus informed Cooler Screens about the Patents-in-Suit and their potential applications in retail technology.

75. Walgreens, through its partnership with Cooler Screens, has implemented and utilized the Accused Products in its stores, which practice the patented methods of the '672 Patent as disclosed during the discussions between Alpha Modus and Cooler Screens.

76. Walgreens's use of the Accused Products demonstrates specific intent to induce infringement of the '672 Patent. Walgreens encourages, directs, aids, and abets the use and operation of the Accused Products in a manner that infringes the '672 Patent.

77. Walgreens's knowledge of the '672 Patent and its business relationship with Cooler Screens, combined with its ongoing use of the Accused Products, demonstrates Walgreens's knowledge and intent that the Accused Products be used in a manner that infringes the '672 Patent.

78. Walgreens's actions and the manner in which the Accused Products are used in Walgreens's stores, consistent with Walgreens's promotions and instructions, demonstrate Walgreens's specific intent to induce infringement of the '672 Patent.

79. Alpha Modus is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that Walgreens knew or was willfully blind to the fact that it was inducing others, including its customers and staff, to infringe by practicing, either themselves or in conjunction with Walgreens, one or more claims of the '672 Patent.

80. As a direct and proximate result of Walgreens's induced infringement of the '672 Patent, Alpha Modus has suffered and will continue to suffer damage.

81. Alpha Modus is entitled to recover from Walgreens compensation in the form of monetary damages suffered as a result of Walgreens's infringement in an amount that cannot be less than a reasonable royalty, together with interest and costs as fixed by this Court.

COUNT III

(DIRECT INFRINGEMENT OF THE '890 PATENT)

82. Alpha Modus repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference, as if fully set forth herein, the allegations of the preceding paragraphs.

83. Walgreens has made, used, offered for sale, and sold in the United States, products and systems that directly infringe the '890 Patent, including the digital smart screens and associated systems of the Accused Products.

84. The Accused Products embody a method for customer assistance in a retail store as claimed in the '890 Patent.

85. The Accused Products include the use of one or more information monitoring devices to gather information about a person at a retail store, in line with claim 1 of the '890 Patent.

86. The Accused Products are operably connected to (A) a server, (B) one or more databases, or (C) both, and perform functions such as gathering object identification information of a product and gathering sentiment information of the person with respect to the product.

87. The Accused Products analyze the information in real time and provide a response based upon the analyzed information gathered by the information monitoring devices, including but not limited to directing a person to a product location, engaging the person based on the product, providing marketing or advertising information, and offering coupons.

88. Walgreens has directly infringed the '890 Patent in violation of 35 U.S.C. § 271(a) by making, using, offering for sale, selling, and/or operating the Accused Products that embody the patented inventions of at least Claim 1 of the '890 Patent.

89. The Accused Products satisfy each and every element of the asserted claim of the '890 Patent either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

90. Walgreens's infringing activities are and have been without authority or license under the '890 Patent.

91. As a direct and proximate result of Walgreens's infringement of the '890 Patent, Alpha Modus has suffered and will continue to suffer damage.

92. Alpha Modus is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that Walgreens has been aware of the '890 Patent and its infringement thereof due to the business relationship between Walgreens and Cooler Screens and through Alpha Modus's notice letter to Walgreens in February of 2020. Despite this knowledge, Walgreens has continued to use the Accused Products in its retail operations.

93. Alpha Modus is informed and believes that Walgreens knew or was willfully blind to the patented technology of the '890 Patent. Despite this knowledge or willful blindness,

Walgreens has acted with blatant disregard for Alpha Modus's patent rights with an objectively high likelihood of infringement.

94. Alpha Modus is informed and believes that Walgreens has made no efforts to avoid infringement of the '890 Patent, despite its knowledge and understanding that its products and systems infringe the '890 Patent.

95. Therefore, Walgreens's infringement of the '890 Patent is willful and egregious, warranting an enhancement of damages.

96. As such, Walgreens has acted and continues to act recklessly, willfully, wantonly, deliberately, and egregiously in infringement of the '890 Patent, justifying an award to Alpha Modus of increased damages under 35 U.S.C. § 284, and attorneys' fees and costs incurred under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

COUNT IV

(INDUCED PATENT INFRINGEMENT OF THE '890 PATENT)

97. Alpha Modus repeats, realleges, and incorporates by reference, as if fully set forth herein, the allegations of the preceding paragraphs, as set forth above.

98. Walgreens is liable for indirect infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b) of at least one claim of the '890 Patent, at least as early as the filing of this Complaint, because it knowingly induces, aids, and directs others to use the Accused Products in a manner that infringes the '890 Patent.

99. As detailed in paragraphs 56-60, Alpha Modus engaged with Cooler Screens regarding the potential licensing of the Patents-in-Suit, including the '890 Patent. During these discussions, Alpha Modus informed Cooler Screens about the Patents-in-Suit and their potential applications in retail technology.

100. Walgreens, through its partnership with Cooler Screens, has implemented and utilized the Accused Products in its stores, which practice the patented methods of the '890 Patent as disclosed during the discussions between Alpha Modus and Cooler Screens.

101. Walgreens's use of the Accused Products demonstrates specific intent to induce infringement of the '890 Patent. Walgreens encourages, directs, aids, and abets the use and operation of the Accused Products in a manner that infringes the '890 Patent.

102. Walgreens's knowledge of the '890 Patent and its business relationship with Cooler Screens, combined with its ongoing use of the Accused Products, demonstrates Walgreens's knowledge and intent that the Accused Products be used in a manner that infringes the '890 Patent.

103. Walgreens's actions and the manner in which the Accused Products are used in Walgreens's stores, consistent with Walgreens's promotions and instructions, demonstrate Walgreens's specific intent to induce infringement of the '890 Patent.

104. Alpha Modus is informed and believes, and on that basis alleges, that Walgreens knew or was willfully blind to the fact that it was inducing others, including its customers and staff, to infringe by practicing, either themselves or in conjunction with Walgreens, one or more claims of the '890 Patent.

105. As a direct and proximate result of Walgreens's induced infringement of the '890 Patent, Alpha Modus has suffered and will continue to suffer damage.

106. Alpha Modus is entitled to recover from Walgreens compensation in the form of monetary damages suffered as a result of Walgreens's infringement in an amount that cannot be less than a reasonable royalty, together with interest and costs as fixed by this Court.

JURY DEMAND

Alpha Modus hereby demands a trial by jury of all issues so triable pursuant to Rule 38 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure.

PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Alpha Modus prays for relief against Walgreens as follows:

- (A) An entry of judgment that Walgreens has infringed and is directly infringing one or more claims of each of the Patents-in-Suit;
- (B) An entry of judgment that Walgreens has infringed and is indirectly infringing one or more claims of each of the Patents-in-Suit;
- (C) An order pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 283 permanently enjoining Walgreens, its officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and those persons in active concert or participation with it, from further acts of infringement of the Patents-in-Suit;
- (D) An entry of judgment that the Patents-in-Suit are valid and enforceable;
- (E) An order awarding damages sufficient to compensate Alpha Modus for Walgreens's infringement of the Patents-in-Suit, but in no event less than a reasonable royalty, together with interest and costs;
- (F) A determination that Walgreens's infringement has been willful, wanton, deliberate, and egregious;
- (G) A determination that the damages against Walgreens be trebled or for any other basis within the Court's discretion pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284;
- (H) A finding that this case against Walgreens is "exceptional" and an award to Alpha Modus of its costs and reasonable attorneys' fees, as provided by 35 U.S.C. § 285;

- (I) An accounting of all infringing sales and revenues of Walgreens, together with post judgment interest and prejudgment interest from the first date of infringement of the '672 Patent and the '890 Patent; and
- (J) Such further and other relief as the Court may deem proper and just.
